De-Stress Fish, De-Stress You

InnoHub
PUTRA SCIENCE PARK

Information

Keeping fish as a pet may seem like a great way to relax and release your stress. However, there are several problems about keeping a fish as a pet that you need to know such as:

Changing Water

As a busy person, we don't have time to regularly change the water in our aquarium.

Water Quality

Water quality is important for our pet-fish survival, it needs to be monitored regularly.

Fish Death

Your pet-fish will die due to improper handling.
Lead to emotional stress.

Traction

January 2020 to April 2022

Advantages

Our product is derived from natural substances and the result of a patented solution from a scientific research in UPM. The product will come together with perks such as user guide package (advice, tips) and regular notification service (water change, pH monitoring, overall condition), so that you will never forget to change the water and maintain water quality.
